

Instructor: Date:

Learner: Regional Branch:

Program: Center:

CONTENT

- Let's Start! • Let's Explore! • Let's Practice! • Extension Activity • Target Words • Learning Points

Let's Start!

What if you had lost something?

Learning Outcome

Describe hypothetical situations in written and spoken interactions according to work and social contexts.

Ask your partner:

- What is one of your most cherished possessions?
- How would you have reacted if someone had tried to steal it in the past?

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about emotions, opinions, money and work.
- I can talk about hypothetical situations in the past.
- I can ask for clarification and information.

Let's Explore!

Has Sally's identity been stolen*?

* We use passive form to say that Sally's "identity has been stolen" because we do not know who stole her identity.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

- Sally: I think I'm having a financial crisis!
- Peter: If you hadn't won a million dollars I would have taken you seriously the last time you made the same announcement! I wish you wouldn't make a mountain out of a molehill.
- Sally: Take a look at this Peter.
- Peter: Is that your Visa bill? Holy cow!
- Sally: Yeah, but I never made those purchases.
- Peter: Someone must have used your credit card number or you are the victim of fraud. Can you remember where you shopped last?
- Sally: If someone had taken my credit card, don't you think I would have noticed?
- Peter: Not necessarily. All they need to do is swipe your card twice with a special device and they can steal your entire identity. It takes two seconds.
- Sally: Do you think that is what happened? Identity theft?
- Peter: Maybe. Or it could've happened online.
- Sally: I shouldn't have done all that online shopping. This would never have happened. I wish I could ignore this.
- Peter: If you hadn't told so many people that you won the lottery, maybe this would not have happened. Can you remember who you told?
- Sally: I hardly told anyone! ... Anyway, do you know what I should do now?
- Peter: I wish I knew. Besides reporting it to the credit card company and the police, there isn't much else you can do.
- Sally: I wish this weren't happening! I think I'll report it now. Want to come to the police station with me for moral support?
- Peter: Sure, Sal!

Let's Practice!

Sally is dealing with a frightening situation. She needs some moral support.

Instructions: Draw a line to match the sentences in Column A and Column B. Use the sentences to model a conversation with your partner. Switch roles.

COLUMN A

1. I think I'm
2. I can't believe this is your Visa
3. I wish I
4. I wish you wouldn't make a
5. Do you think that is what
6. Yeah, but I never
7. Besides reporting it to the credit

COLUMN B

- a. having a financial crisis!
- b. bill. Holy cow!
- c. card company and the police, there isn't much else you can do.
- d. happened? Identity theft?
- e. mountain out of a molehill.
- f. could ignore this.
- g. made those purchases.

Let's Practice!

Sally has a number of regrets.

Instructions: Read and circle the correct words to complete the sentences. Rewrite the sentences below. Read the corrected sentences aloud. Check your pronunciation with your instructor.

1. If you hadn't won / win / wins a million dollars I would have took / takes / taken you seriously the last time you made the same announcement!
2. I shouldn't had / have / has done all that online shopping.
3. This would never have happen / happens / happened .
4. If you hasn't / hadn't / isn't told so many people that you won the lottery, maybe this wouldn't / would / wasn't not have happened.

Extension Activity

Tell your partner about a regret.

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- Tell your partner about something you wish you had not told someone (a regret).
- Tell them what you could have or should have done instead.
- Write a 200 word description of the regret.
- Read your description aloud to a partner.

Self-Assessment

Yes

No

I talk about a wish in the past.

☐ ☐

I ask about a hypothetical situation in the past.

☐ ☐

I write about a wish and hypothetical situation in the past.

☐ ☐

Target Words

- crisis (noun): a situation in which there are a lot of problems that must be dealt with quickly so that the situation does not get worse
e.g. I think I'm having a financial crisis!
- to make a mountain out of a molehill (expression): to make a major issue out of a minor one or to exaggerate the importance of something e.g. I wish you wouldn't make a mountain out of a molehill.
- to swipe (verb): to hit or to try to hit someone or something by swinging your arm or an object very quickly
e.g. All they need to do is swipe your card
- identity theft (noun): a person who illicitly takes another person's identity to steal or trick
e.g. Do you think identity theft is what happened?
- moral support (noun): emotional or psychological backing
e.g. Do you want to come to the police station with me for moral support?
- besides (adverb): in addition to someone or something else that you are mentioning
e.g. Besides reporting it to the credit card company and the police, there isn't much else you can do.
- holy cow (expression): used as an exclamation of surprise, amazement, or bewilderment e.g. Is that your Visa bill? Holy cow!

Learning Points

Asking for Clarification

You ask for clarification when you want more details of what the other person is talking about.

You can emphasize a point by asking rhetorical questions.

You ask for clarification when it is not clear what the other person is referring to. You ask the other person to be more specific by giving you more information.

You can use a question at the beginning of a statement or question to ask for clarification like: Don't you think ... ?

Questions within sentences are called embedded questions.

Example:

Simple question: Who told you?

Embedded question: Can you remember who told you?

Look at the chart below for an explanation on how to make embedded questions.

Main Question	Embedded Question
Do you know ...	what/where/when/who/ ... ?
Do you remember ...	what/where/when/who/ ... ?
Can you tell me ...	what/where/when/who/ ... ?
Could you tell me ...	what/where/when/who/ ... ?

Examples:

- Can you remember where you shopped last?
- Can you remember who you told?
- Anyway, do you know what I should do now?
- Do you think that is what happened?

Learning Points

Talking Hypothetically About the Past

When you want to talk about situations in the past in a hypothetical context (not real or necessarily true), you can use the structures would have, should have and could have.

You use could have (+ past participle) to make a guess about something that happened in the past.

Or it could've happened online.

Should have (+ past participle) means something would have been a good idea, but you didn't do it. You can use it to give advice about the past when you say it to someone else, or to express regret about what you did or didn't do when you're talking about yourself.

I shouldn't have done all that online shopping. (I regret doing all that online shopping).

Use would have (+ past participle) to talk about something you wanted to do but didn't. This is very similar to the third conditional, but we don't need an 'if clause'.

This would never have happened.

Examples:

- If you hadn't won a million dollars I would have taken you seriously the last time you made the same announcement!
- I shouldn't have done all that online shopping.
- This would never have happened.
- If you hadn't told so many people that you won the lottery, maybe this would not have happened.

