

Instructor: Date:

Learner: Regional Branch:

Program: Center:

CONTENT

- Let's Start! • Let's Explore! • Let's Practice! • Extension Activity • Target Words • Learning Points

Let's Start!

Would you have chosen a different life?

Learning Outcome

Describe hypothetical situations in written and spoken interactions according to work and social contexts.

Ask your partner:

- Would your life have been better if you had been born in a different place? Explain.
- If you hadn't studied English what other language would you have chosen?

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about emotions, opinions, behavior and work.
- I can talk about what I wish for in the past, present or future.
- I can talk about hypothetical situations in the past.

Let's Explore!

If Peter hadn't been there the sous chef would have been pummeled!

* "Pummeled" means beaten over and over again.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

- Vanessa: I wish I hadn't left my phone at work. Why are you brooding Peter? You've been so reticent lately.
- Peter: I wish I hadn't ...
- Vanessa: Go on!
- Peter: If I hadn't gone to that party at your restaurant, I wouldn't have met Amy. That's all.
- Vanessa: If you hadn't come that night you couldn't have rescued me from that horribly hostile customer who nearly beat up my sous chef! Thank heavens you were there. You remember?
- Peter: I remember that hostility! If I hadn't spilled wine on his shoe, he wouldn't have been distracted at the right moment.
- Vanessa: ... He wouldn't have slipped and broken his ankle which rendered him helpless for the rest of the night. He also would have beaten up Pascal.
- Peter: If none of that had happened, then the ambulance wouldn't have come and Amy wouldn't have entered my life. I wish she had not been on her shift that night!
- Vanessa: Wait a sec! I know she left on a trip to Africa, but did you guys end things?
- Peter: She's gone. That says it all, doesn't it?
- Vanessa: How did you leave things?
- Peter: She gave me some lame apology. If she had really cared for me, she wouldn't have done that.
- Vanessa: Maybe she was being sincere, Peter! You really have a wall up. I wish you would learn to relax. Why are you so closed?
- Peter: I wish I could be more open.

Let's Practice!

Peter's behavior is a challenge.

Instructions: Read the sentences and find the missing words in the wordsearch below. Use the sentences to model a conversation with your partner. Switch roles.

1. Why are you _____ Peter?
2. You really have a _____.
3. Maybe she was being _____, Peter!
4. You've been so _____ lately.
5. I remember that _____!
6. Why are you so _____?
7. She gave me some _____ apology.
8. Thank _____ you were there.

S	A	A	O	F	S	H	V	A	T	C	T	B	E	D
M	W	T	A	F	Y	D	K	H	O	V	I	R	E	P
F	Y	Y	T	I	L	I	T	S	O	H	I	A	Y	T
C	A	C	D	E	U	I	G	P	V	T	M	W	E	O
K	M	T	E	K	X	L	A	M	E	Q	H	H	R	Y
W	K	B	S	Z	W	D	C	C	Y	W	E	I	E	E
O	V	B	O	F	D	R	I	T	O	M	A	S	C	S
P	Y	R	L	G	Q	V	V	Z	P	R	V	Q	N	P
X	A	O	C	P	Z	I	Y	Y	O	K	E	A	I	Q
O	Z	O	N	N	Y	R	I	Z	K	R	N	E	S	B
Q	Q	D	E	Z	K	R	F	M	D	E	S	L	I	C
L	B	I	R	E	T	I	C	E	N	T	L	S	M	G
N	R	N	F	R	U	C	U	W	R	X	V	V	N	F
O	L	G	K	X	R	B	Z	Y	X	G	L	S	E	M
W	A	L	L	U	P	I	B	S	C	G	T	W	A	C

Let's Practice!

Be careful what you wish for!

Instructions: Select the mistake in the sentence. Rewrite the sentences below. Read the corrected sentences aloud. Check your pronunciation with your instructor.

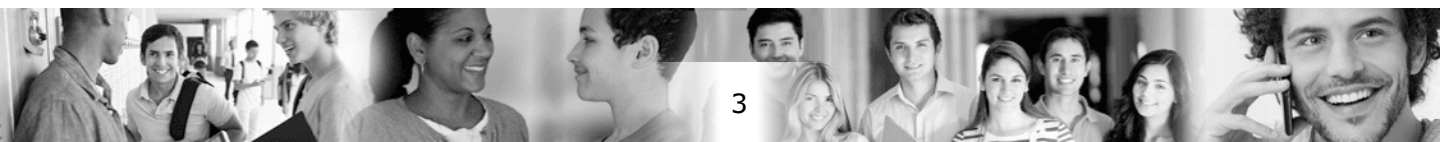

1. I also wishes you would change the subject.

2. I wish I could be more opened.

3. I wish I hadn't go to the party.

4. I wish I hasn't left my phone at work.

5. I wishing I didn't have to go back to work to get my phone.

Extension Activity

Talk and write about a mistake in the past.

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- Tell a partner about a mistake you made in the past. (use wish)
- Tell your partner what you could have or should have done differently to avoid the mistake.
- Write a paragraph of 100-120 words or more describing the mistake and what you could have done differently.
- Read your paragraph to your partner.

Self-Assessment

Yes No

I talk about a wish in the past.

☐ ☐

I talk about a hypothetical situation in the past.

☐ ☐

I write about a wish in the past.

☐ ☐

I write about a hypothetical situation in the past.

☐ ☐

I share my paragraph with a partner.

☐ ☐

Target Words

- to brood (verb): to keep thinking about something that you are worried or upset about e.g. Why are you brooding Peter?
- reticent (adjective): unwilling to talk about what you feel or what you know e.g. You've been so reticent lately.
- hostile (adjective): having or showing unfriendly feelings
e.g. You couldn't have rescued me from that horribly hostile customer who nearly beat up my sous chef.
- to distract (verb): to take someone's attention away from something e.g. He wouldn't have been distracted at the right moment.
- to render (verb): to cause someone or something to be in a specific condition
e.g. He wouldn't have slipped and broken his ankle which rendered him helpless for the rest of the night.
- lame (adjective): weak and unimpressive
e.g. She gave me some lame apology.
- to have a wall up (expression): to establish a barrier in a relationship e.g. You really have a wall up.
- closed (adjective): not willing to accept new ideas or influences e.g. Why are you so closed?

Learning Points

The Third Conditional - Talking Hypothetically About the Past

You use the third conditional to talk about unreal situations in the past. These are things that did not happen in the past. You often use the third conditional to talk about regrets.

Structure	Use/Meaning	Example
Could have (+ past participle)	an action was possible at a point in time in the past, but it was not done	If you hadn't come that night you couldn't have rescued me from that horribly hostile customer who nearly beat up my sous chef!
Should have (+ past participle)	it would have been preferable to complete an action in the past, but it was not done	If she had really cared for me, she shouldn't have done that.
would have (+ past participle)	you wanted to do something, but you didn't do it	If I hadn't gone to that party at your restaurant, I wouldn't have met Amy.

The structure of the third conditional is:

If + Past Perfect, could/should/would (not) have + past participle

Examples:

- If I hadn't spilled wine on his shoe, he wouldn't have been distracted at the right moment.*
- He wouldn't have slipped and broken his ankle which rendered him helpless for the rest of the night.*
- He also would have beaten up Pascal.*
- If none of that had happened, then the ambulance wouldn't have come and Amy wouldn't have entered my life.*

Learning Points

Talking about Wishes

You use wish, plus the past form of the verb or the past participle of the verb to talk about imaginary situations in the past, present or future.

Wishes and sentences in the second and third conditional infer that what you want is probably not possible, or for some reason impossible and that you regret what happened in the past.

Structure	Use/Meaning	Example
wish + Simple Past	talk about wishes in the present or future	Sometimes I wish I could be more open. (I can't be more open.)
wish + had + past participle	talk about wishes about past situations	I wish I hadn't left my phone at work! (I left my phone at work.)

Examples:

- I also wish you would change the subject.
- I wish I could be more open.
- I wish I hadn't left my phone at work.
- I wish I didn't have to go back to work to get my phone.

